A PAGE OF FACTS

The color views on the cover of this announcement show typical tent life of travelers who select the "Wylie Way" through Yellowstone Park. In looking at views of the exterior of a sleeping tent, bear in mind that each permanent camp or "tent city" consists of dozens of these tents laid out in streets and quadrangles among the pines. Toward the center of a camp rise the larger proportions of the central dining hall, the office and the social assembly pavilion. The service in Wylie camps is at the hands of young women who are drawn from private homes. The drivers of Wylie stages are picked men who are familiar with the geography and history of the Park.

The "Wylie Way" has operated in the Yellowstone for thirty successive years. It is licensed by the United States Government, which owns and controls the Park. Wylie stage coaches leave all Park gateways daily, June 15th to Sept. 10th, in connection with all regular train schedules. The map of the Park indicates the North Entrance at Gardiner, Mont.; the West Entrance at Yellowstone, Mont., and the East Entrance at Cody, Wyo. Along the Government roadway are indicated the locations of all Wylie permanent camps.

Special attention is directed to the view in color of an interior of a Wylie bedroom. Sleeping tents are of three uniform sizes—one-room, two-room and four-room. Each bedroom is private. The tents are floored, framed and double-topped. Note the canvas walls extending to the floor of the tent and the interior baseboards. Each tent is heated. The beds are of the quality and size manufactured for the best hotels.

CHARGES—The regular tour from the North and West Entrances requires six days and the cost is $40.00. This covers 160 miles of stage transportation, all meals and lodgings, complete guide service, and every necessary expense. Five-day tour from West Entrance, $35.00. The regular tour from Cody, Wyo., requires seven days and the cost is $50.75. Longer and shorter tours. Children under ten years, half fare.

Consult the list of Wylie agencies and call for 40-page Wylie folder. It answers every question that will occur to persons interested in Yellowstone. These Wylie agencies sell Yellowstone tickets and rail tickets, make sleeping car reservations and Yellowstone reservations. Folders and special service are free. Call on the nearest listed agent.

WHY "WYLIE WAY" WINS

The "Wylie Way" is more than comfortable tent-cottages to sleep in and easy stages to ride in. Mere camps and coaches would never have secured for the "Wylie Way" its National prestige as the great camping tour of the Yellowstone. "Wylie Way" success is founded on "Wylie Way" personality. The system expresses the best thought of men who began to study the problems of Yellowstone travel as early as 1883.

The spirit of the "Wylie Way"—its personality—takes possession of the traveler at the outset of the journey. There is harmony between the "Wylie Way" and the primitiveness of the Park itself. The camps become centers of good-fellowship; the nightly camp-fire gatherings foster new friendships; the coaches become moving house parties; the young men and women who serve at the camps become entertainers and interpreters. The scenic splendor of the Park unfolds day by day in accordance with leisurely and comprehensive schedules. These elements of service are the result of thirty years' operation under United States Government supervision.
